You are invited to participate in research regarding socially sustainable solutions for water, carbon and infrastructure resilience in Oklahoma. This study will ask you about your perceptions and experiences with weather/climate in Oklahoma, and to characterize and evaluate problem areas and potential solutions to weather/climate challenges. This is an important long-term study and we are looking for research partners throughout the state who are willing to share their experiences and views. We are contacting you because you indicated an interest in participating. You must be at least 18 years of age and be willing to provide your contact information to participate.

If you agree to participate, you will respond to an Internet survey that should take about 30 minutes to complete.

There are no risks or benefits.

If you participate, you will receive a $10 gift card, mailed to you after you complete the survey.

Your participation is voluntary, and your responses will be de-identified before they are shared for research purposes or published. After removing all identifiers, we might share your data with other researchers or use it in future research without obtaining additional consent from you.

Even if you choose to participate now you may stop participating at any time and for any reason.

Data are collected via an online survey system that has its own privacy and security policies for keeping your information confidential.

If you have questions about this research, please contact:

Dr. Hank Jenkins-Smith

Thank you for participating in this study. The survey you are about to complete is different than most. We are not simply asking for opinions and preferences. We are asking for advice and guidance on how to tackle some of the biggest problems facing Oklahoma. While we will keep your identity strictly confidential, we are going to share the answers you provide with a team of scientists and policymakers across the state who are studying these problems and trying to develop creative solutions. Your responses will provide extremely valuable input into this process.

Now we have some questions about three resources in Oklahoma that affect prosperity and quality of life in many parts of the state --- water, land, and infrastructure. The scientists and policymakers who are part of this project are working in teams to evaluate different aspects of each resource. We want to know if you have any concerns about these resources.

We are currently thinking about three aspects when evaluating water resources in Oklahoma:

- Water availability: the supplies of water for various purposes, such as drinking, farming/ranching, or industrial or business processes
- Water quality: the suitability (cleanliness) of water for various purposes, such as drinking or irrigation
- Water cost: the cost of water for various purposes, such as such as drinking, farming/ranching, or industrial or business processes concern_water_availability: Do you have any concerns about water availability in your region of Oklahoma?

We are currently thinking about two aspects when evaluating land resources in Oklahoma:

- Wildlife habitat: ecosystems that support animals and birds that people enjoy watching and hunting, such as butterflies, deer, quail, and turkey
- Soil quality: the suitability of soil for sustaining plants, animals, and livelihoods, such as productive farming and ranching concern_land_wildlife: Do you have any concerns about wildlife habitat in your region of Oklahoma?

- 1 - Definitely no
- 2 - Probably no
- 3 - Unsure

Please rate the degree to which each of the following statements describe your outlook on life.

hierarchy: I am more comfortable when I know who is, and who is not, a part of my group, and loyalty to the group is important to me. I prefer to know who is in charge and to have clear rules and procedures; those who are in charge should punish those who break the rules. I like to have my responsibilities clearly defined, and I believe people should be rewarded based on the position they hold and their competence. Most of the time, I trust those with authority and expertise to do what is right for society.

- 1 - Strongly disagree
- 2 - Disagree
- 3 - Unsure
- 4 - Agree
- 5 - Strongly agree

individualism: Groups are not all that important to me. I prefer to make my own way in life without having to follow other people's rules. Rewards in life should be based on initiative, skill, and hard work, even if that results in inequality. I respect people based on what they do, not the positions or titles they hold. I like relationships that are based on negotiated "give and take," rather than on status. Everyone benefits when individuals are allowed to compete.

- 1 - Strongly disagree
- 2 - Disagree
- 3 - Unsure
- 4 - Agree
- 5 - Strongly agree

egalitarianism: My most important contributions are made as a member of a group that promotes justice and equality, to combat unfairness and corruption in society. Within my group, everyone should play an equal role without differences in rank or authority. It is easy to lose track of what is important, so I have to keep a close eye on the actions of my group. It is not enough to provide equal opportunities; we also have to try to make outcomes more equal.

- 1 - Strongly disagree
- 2 - Disagree
- 3 - Unsure
- 4 - Agree
- 5 - Strongly agree

fatalism: Life is unpredictable and I have very little control. I tend not to join groups, and I try not to get involved because I can't make much difference anyway. Other people make the rules; I just have to abide by them. Getting along in life is largely a matter of doing the best I can with what comes my way, so I just try to take care of myself and the people closest to me. It's best to just go with the flow, because whatever will be will be.

- 1 - Strongly disagree
